

Creating the soul of luxury travel in Latin America

I have quietly become a leading voice in the world of bespoke travel experiences, where every detail must reflect elegance and authenticity. Born and raised in Ecuador, the landscapes, cultures, and rhythms of Latin America profoundly influence my professional career. My career in tourism was not limited to logistics or itineraries, but focused on storytelling. With a natural eye for the extraordinary and a deep respect for her roots, she began her career guiding travelers through the diverse regions of Ecuador: the majestic Andes, the lush Amazon rainforest, the serene Pacific coast, and the iconic Galapagos Islands.

I enjoy inspiring others through my thoughtful approach to luxury tourism in Latin America. On every trip I design, I offer more than a vacation: I offer a path to reconnection, wonder, and the timeless beauty of Latin America

info@sendaluna.com
www.sendaluna.com

These “four worlds” became his canvas, and over time, he mastered the art of designing high-end, personalized experiences that reflect the individuality of each guest and honor the soul of each destination. He then gradually expanded his reach throughout Latin America, from the deep waters of Belize to the cold waters of Patagonia.

I am distinguished by my unwavering commitment to responsible and transformative travel. I believe in travel that enriches travelers and enhances the destinations that welcome them. Her work reflects a quiet leadership based on empathy, precision, and authenticity.